TEMPLE FIVE TODAY

The Temple University of Philadelphia will be the attraction at Gallaudet this afternoon, but from the present indicathon a battle royal is on the bard. Since the decisive victory which the Kendall Green team handed to the George Washington five on Saturday night the following of that school are banking upon their favorites. Not in one game during the season did the Gallaudet team show the power that was exhibited on Saturday night and if the dope holds good the Temple team is coming here for a good trimming.

It is said that Sinclair instead of taking over the contracts of more than seventy Federal leaguers, has assumed only the contracts of those men who could be sold for eash, such as Magee, Kauff, Cullop. Rousch. Anderson, Rariden. Anderson, Rariden. Anderson, Rariden. Anderson, Rariden. Anderson, Rariden. Anderson and others, while the players who were supposed to be taken care of exclusive of the so-called stars, will all be sold for eash, such as Magee, Sinclair, if reports are to be credited, has cleaned up more than $100,000 on the sale of players, the clubs buying these men being responsible for their contracts.

Furthermore, it is claimed by the men of organized ball that the Federal League would never have opened for business in 1916, for the reason that in served a clause which read "unless sold that the reduction of the sold and upward the sale of players contract there was inserted a clause which read "unless sold that the reduction of the sold that the read "unless sold that the reduction of the sold that the reduction
